About Gokhale Institute of Politics & Economics, Pune

Gokhale Institute of Politics & Economics, Pune is one of the oldest research and training institutes in economics in India. It was founded in June 1930 with an endowment offered by the late Rao Bahadur R.R.Kale to the Servants of India Society which was founded by the late Shri Gopal Krishna Gokhale.

The Institute was initially affiliated to the University of Bombay, conducting the M.A. Programme in economics and supervising the work of students working towards research degrees of that University. In 1949, with the establishment of the University of Poona, the Institute became a constituent recognized institute of the new University. Till 1993 the Institute functioned, for all academic purposes, as the Department of Economics of this University. With the decision of the University to establish as separate Department of Economics at its campus, the Institute as a Centre of Advanced Study in economics was granted effective autonomy in 1986 in designing courses, teaching and examination of the M.A. Degree in economics. The Government of India, on their commendation by the University Grants Commission, has awarded a Deemed to be University status to the Institute in 1993.
